Gay has described:

Dreyfus and Wife Estranged. The enduring interest in the "1) reyfus affair" is again proved by the fact that the Palace of Justice, in Paris, where the Dreyfus revision proceedings are going on, is always crowded to suffocation by the highest in society, in art and in letters, who consider themselves fortunate to get in. This, despite the attractions of the greatest week in the Paris social year and the melodramatic debate going on in the Chamber of Deputies between Interior Minister Clemen ceau and Jaures, leader of socialistic

In intervals of listening absorbedly to In intervals of listening absorbedly to the lawyers the throng at the Dreyfus hearing whispers that Captain Dreyfus and his wife are estranged. Mme. Dreyfus had been in court twice. But she comes and goes without speaking to her husband; without even noticing him. Many persons have not recognized him

Many persons have not recognized him ourt room, as he has grown s beard and dresses like a gentleman from the provinces. Now, as throughout every phase of the affair, his cultivated and retiring manners contrast with the self-assertion of his enemies.

There is little doubt, it is thought now, that the verdict of the French Su preme Court will nullify the Reune Court-martial decision against Dreyfus.

Corpse Breaks Up a Wake.

Fifteen men who were sitting up with the corpse of Mrs. Catharine Gulerale in McKeesport, Pa., Friday evening declared the wake adjourned sine die when the corpse arose from the coffin, walked to the cupboard in the room, looked into it, gazed out the window and then returned to its narrow bed, disposing itself peacefully in the cushioned box. When the strange story was told to the police they entered the house, and found the have but one language here and mighty little o' that."- Boston Herald. body of Mrs. Galerale lying in the coffin. Fifteen excited foreigners gathered around the policemen and insisted the woman had risen from her coffin. A physician was called and he pronounced her dead. Yet those fifteen men insist they saw her alive, and declare they had not been drinking any more than it is the custom at a wake. None of the men could be induced to return to the house. The funeral took place Saturday, and persons who attended were in fear and trembling. They say it presages the worst kind of luck when the dead walk that way. When a ghost walks it's not

Students Flirt with a Waitress Julie's arms are plump and white and rousded daintily. Her sleeve, in the summer's way stopped short in a little frill at her pretty, pinkly dimpled elbow. That is why Julie is no longer enrolled among the waitresses at the exclusive University School at Cleveland, Ohio. That is why, also, two students have been suspended. One is Teddie Palmer, a senior and an athlete, of New York. The other is Douglas Gardner, of Norwalk. Gardner is captain of the football team. Half a dozen other students were up before the facilty at the time Julie packed her little grip and left the school, for, though Julie's reign was brief, it was lively. Instruc-tors saw several of the boys flirting with her at the table. Julie got her discharge papers. A week later a member around the grounds after dark found the dimpled Julie perched on the stone coping, gayly chattering with a half dozen young students. Investigation

You cannot induce a lower animal to et heartily when not feeling well. A sick dog starves himself, and gets well. The stomach, once overworked, must have rest the same as your feet or eyes. TO THE OWNERS OF DOGS! MAYOR S OFFICE, Alexandria, Va., June 8, 1906.
All persons owning or intending to keep any animal of the Dog or Canine species should come forward on or before JUNE TWENTY-PIFTH, 1906, and take out a license for the same from the Auditor. After the 30th of June all persons owning or harboring Dogs without the required license are subject to a fine as the laws on the subject require of $3 or $5.

Complaint has been frequently made that many persons fail to take out their license, and that others pay on one or two Dogs when owning and harboring more, or who send such Dogs away during the summer months and bring them back in the fall.
Attention has been called to this evasion of the law, and policemen will report all such cases, and fines can be imposed upon those who fail to take out licenses after trial in the Police Court.

The police officers will be required to report all violations of this law.

BIn order to avoid any mistakes persons who make application for licenses would do well to write their names and number of residence, street, etc., on a card or paper when making application for their licenses to the Auditor.
